About a Piece of Black Gravel From White Oak Shoals

I had heard that White Oak Shoals, the first barrier to navigation about 35 miles up Little River from Allen's Ferry, was a bench of black gravel. We did a piece of geographic research Sunday afternoon with a fleet of eight boats that made a trip 40 miles up the river and 40 miles back.

About that black gravel — it's more a charcoal gray, and not all of it is gravel. I brought back a specimen in one of the rubber shoes I used when "walking" my craft through the shallow water. The specimen proved to be a tiny snail-shell. That black beach appears to get its color from thousands of snail and mussel shells.

Which also explains a peculiar fact: The only place on the river we encountered any mosquitoes or flies was at White Oak Shoals — and then only on the actual dry bar area, not over the water however shallow. . . . Dying marine life trapped on the dry gravel by falling water explains the insects. Little River is the finest long-range navigation stream in south-western Arkansas, rivaling the Ouachita for safe boating and having much more beautiful scenery, with magnificent trees and lush vegetation to the water's edge all the way.

The approximate distances on the river from Allen's Ferry — with no guarantee as to accuracy — are: To Frisco bridge 7 miles; CCC bridge 17 miles; confluence of Saline River with Little River 30 miles; White Oak Shoals 35; Millwood village 40 miles . . . beyond which there is a second shoals through which your boat has to be hand-propelled. The closest road-map point to Millwood is Paraloma.

Some of the boys ventured just beyond Millwood to this second shoals but had to turn back with the rest of the expedition at Millwood because of the chronic problem of all boatmen — how to carry enough gasoline in a small boat to really go places. At that, 80 miles was a pretty good log for half a day.

Here is the company that went up Little River, with the boat owner's name first, followed by the names of his riders:

A. D. Boswell, Royce Smith, Albert Page, Dr. Herbert Rogers, Herbert Dodson, Herbert Ray Dodson, Misses Judy and Jo Ellen Bar.

A. H. Washburn, Hollis Moses, Barney Gaines, Dayton Thomas, Horner Gaines, Kenny Atkins, Mr. Hembree of Port Arthur, Texas.

Hunt for Slayer Brings Near Riot

By ROBERT T. LOUGHRAN
CHICAGO, (UP) — The nationwide search for the shotgun killer of three persons set off a near-riot in a jammed movie theater last night.

About 3,000 persons jammed the street outside the Granada theater on the north side when they heard that police had trapped killer Lawrence Neumann inside.

Two men fainting in the crush. The crowd got out of control and 15 squads of police already on the scene had to radio for reinforcements.

The police were waiting their chance to nab a member of the audience who matched Neumann's description.

Burglars Strike at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, (UP) — Thieves who use tools to enter the establishments they burglarize struck here over the weekend.

City Police Sgt. Vernon Walker and State Police Sgt. Wyatt Patrick said $395 was taken from the Jonesboro Equipment Co. Saturday. The burglary was discovered yesterday.

The burglars used tools they found in the company to rip open the wall safe, the officers said.

The method was the same used about two weeks ago when the Earl Kirk Implement Co. at Paragould was burglarized, Walker and Patrick said.

President Takes Walk Around Room

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today took another little walk, suffered less pain, and made a start toward resuming the duties of his office.

The doctors said Eisenhower took "walking exercises around 9:30 a.m. on his own initiative."

A 12:15 p.m. medical bulletin said "the President's condition remains excellent," with pulse, blood pressure, temperature and respiration "essentially normal."

It added: "He walked with but little support, but had an easy chair which was placed 20 feet from the bed."

"He sat in the chair for 15 minutes and then walked, again with little support, back to bed."

"During these exercises the President had less discomfort than yesterday."

Yesterday — only 30 hours after his emergency surgery of early Saturday morning — the President walked a total of about 30 feet with attendants partly supporting him. Today the only assistance he had was a hand on the elbow.

Mrs. Eisenhower was in the room on both occasions.

Eisenhower conferred for 10 minutes today with his chief assistant, Sherman Adams, and reached several decisions including the designation of Vice President Nixon to represent him at two forthcoming events — the regular National Security Council meeting Thursday and a Blair House luncheon Wednesday for West German Chancellor Adenauer.

Tribunal Upholds Ownership Ruling

Supreme Court today upheld a Washington Circuit Court ruling against Mrs. S. W. Ferguson's ownership of a lot in the Jennings Addition of Fayetteville.

Mrs. Ferguson contended that she bought the property from Fayetteville Sewer District No. 1 in 1930. She said the sewer district acquired it through foreclosure for delinquent sewer tax assessments.

The Supreme Court said one of the foreclosure decrees was void because it was incomplete. The decree failed to mention that the property is included in an addition to the city.

Mrs. Ferguson had brought suit against B. H. Van Gundy and Velma Van Gundy.

The Supreme Court opinion, written by Associate Justice J. Seaborn Holt, held that Mrs. Ferguson was required to "recover on the strength of her own title, and not on the weakness of her adversary."

A Reformed Fatty Declares We Are What We Eat and the More We Eat the More We Are

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — There are at least 26 million overweight Americans, and Leonard Louis Levinson has just written a book dedicated to them all.

His dedication reads: "To the thin person, inside every fat person, fighting to get out."

A reformed fatty himself, this repentant sinner is the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of the diet field.

For most of his life, Levinson, now 32, never counted his calories and preferred to take them rather than leave them alone.

He was a highly successful writer of film scripts, stage skits and radio shows. He wrote for Fibber McGee and Molly and many other entertainment headlines.

Then he was commissioned to

SOME TEN HOURS before the White House announced the President was suffering from an "upset stomach," Mr. Eisenhower appeared hale and hearty as he flashed his famous smile at the White House Photographers' annual dinner in Washington. Later in the day Ike was taken to Walter Reed Hospital where he underwent an operation to relieve a "non-malignant" obstruction in his intestines.

Public Urged to Prevent Forest Fires

By Buster Deator, Dist. Forester

The recent announcements of new Wood-using Industries locating in Arkansas should be a challenge to everyone to join in and assist in our Forest Conservation Program.

For hundreds of years the Utilization of the forest have played a major part in the Development of our State and Nation. The vast forest resources that we now have and the potential of the forest resources that we could have, will continue to play a major part in the future Development of our Counties and State.

The shameful waste of forest fires during the past 10 years must be stopped if we are to continue to expand our Wood-using Industries. The Protecting of forest fires is the basic foundation principal in the good Forest Conservation Program and when you view our Fire Record the past 10 years it's easy to see that the foundation of our Conservation Program is not as secure as it should be. The regrettable thing about it is that the people themselves are responsible for 98% of the fires.

In 1932 there were 7,326 Forest Fires in the State, burning 237,720 acres. In 1933 and 1934, about the same record. Weather conditions being more favorable, we did a little better in 1935.

If people would only follow the few simple rules listed below, our fire occurrence would be cut down tremendously:

1. Notify the Rangers when and where you intend to burn grass or brush.
2. Be sure you have a fire lane, creek, road, or plowed area to confine your fire to the area you want to burn.
3. Use the ash tray in your car.
4. Be sure your Camp or Warning Fire is dead out before leaving.
5. Do not at any time attempt to smoke the squirrel or rabbit out of a hollow tree or log.
6. Always respect the weather conditions when attempting to burn anything.

Slashed Foreign Aid Bill Gets House Okay

BY LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today passed and sent to the Senate a $3,800,000,000 foreign aid bill slashed more than a billion dollars below President Eisenhower's request.

The formal roll call vote confirmed House opposition this election year to an overseas aid program as large as the $4,900,000,000 Eisenhower said was needed for American and free world security.

But just before final passage, the House refused by a 147-32 standing vote to kill the entire measure by sending it back to committee.

The legislation was reported headed for further trouble in the Senate, where some key senators have said it still should be cut even further. It is still $1,100,000,000 bigger than the appropriation Congress voted last year.

The bill sets terms and ceilings for the program to bolster free world countries against communism in the year starting July 1. The actual funds must be voted

Few Soldiers Cooperated With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eighty per cent of the American war prisoners repatriated after the Korean War neither resisted nor cooperated with their Communist captors, an Army research study shows.

Based on analysis of the records of the 3,323 former prisoners, the study classified 15 per cent as collaborators and the remaining 5 per cent as resisters. The study did not take into account the actions of more than 3,000 others who died in captivity.

Those who did cooperate with their captors, the study showed, did so primarily not because of any belief in communism but to avoid possible mistreatment and to obtain preferential treatment.

There was little difference in the backgrounds of the resisters and the participants, said the study. The latter group, it added, "came back in physically better shape," but the resisters had "fewer neurotic symptoms."

Death Toll in Arkansas Now Stands at 35

By The Associated Press
Highway accidents and drownings boosted Arkansas' violent death toll to 36 for the week which ended Sunday midnight. The death count was three times the number recording during the previous 7-day period.

Forrest Thomas Hagood, 19-year-old University of Arkansas student, died at a Dumas hospital early today of injuries suffered in a highway accident Saturday.

The accident occurred when the car in which he was riding crashed into a bridge abutment on Highway 85 five miles north of Dumas. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hagood of Dumas.

Also injured was John Lewis Clary, 22, a student at Southern State College and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clary of Dumas.

W. L. Irby, 39-year-old Mount Ida publisher, died yesterday when his car skidded about 400 feet and overturned. State Trooper Glenn Minton said Irby was thrown from the vehicle which rolled over two or three times. The accident occurred three miles east of Mount Ida on Highway 270.

Irby, who was driving alone, was editor and publisher of the Montgomery County News, a weekly newspaper at Mount Ida.

Jimmie Lee Clary, 22-year-old Negro woman from Sheridan, died last night at a Little Rock hospital. She was one of seven persons injured in a 2-car collision Saturday near Malvern.

Two drivers were killed over the weekend in stock car races at the Memphis-Arkansas Speedway at Lehigh.

Thomas Priddy, 27, of Louisville, Ky., died yesterday when his car sideswiped another racer, lost a wheel and began flipping over.

Clint Hughes, 28, of Blount, Miss., died during time trials Saturday when his car plunged through a guard rail into a lake.

A 23-year-old milk truck driver, Lowell Penny of Paragould, died early yesterday when his truck smashed into a bridge abutment on Highway 25 one mile east of Light, and burst into flames. State Trooper Joe Cosner said Penny apparently was trapped in the cab of the truck and burned to death.

Jack Lehman, 21, of Fayetteville, was killed yesterday when his car was struck by a truck.

Ike Rejects Invitation to U.S. Military Chiefs to Pay Visit to Russia

Bodies of Three Recovered From 1927 Cutoff

Two men and a boy drowned Saturday night when their fishing boat overturned in 1927 Cutoff lake, between Hope and Lewisville. The victims were Lee Smith, 30, R. E. Batts, 37, and his son Raymond, 8, all of Stamps.

Sheriff W. H. (Buck) Baker said the three rented a boat late Saturday at a landing on the lake. Several hours later, the Sheriff said, a Magnolia couple who was frogging in on the lake saw three cushions and a gas can floating on the water. The boat landing operator was notified and found the overturned boat when he investigated.

Baker said all three bodies were recovered Sunday morning by emergency rescue squads from fire departments at Magnolia, Hope and Texarkana.

Batts and Smith were employed by Gaines, Inc., a furniture plant at Stamps. Batts was plant superintendent. Both men formerly lived at Memphis.

Batts is survived by his wife, three daughters, Misses Norma, Marcey and Bobbie Jo. Batts of Stamps, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Batts of Yoakum, Tex., three brothers, S. M. and C. L. Batts of Yoakum, B. J. Batts of Victoria, Tex., and two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Brown of Yoakum and Mrs. George Wainwright of Houston. Jerry Trout, about 39, husband of the former Geraldine Murphy of Hope, crashed his Naval Air Corps plane into the Pacific ocean near Alameda, Calif., yesterday and is presumed to have died in the crash. His body has not been recovered. The crash occurred about 2 p. m. Sunday.

The accident occurred during gunnery practice. Commander of a Naval Reserve Corps unit on active duty for two weeks, Mr. Trout was a veteran of 16 years of flying. He was the head of the Civil Aeronautics Authority office in Amarillo, Texas.

Only a few days ago he brought his three children, age 11, six four, to Hope via plane to spend two weeks with their grand parents Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Murphy while he was on active duty. His wife remained in Amarillo but is due to arrive in Hope this afternoon.

Court Rules Deed Is Really a Mortgage

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A property transaction which is considered by both parties to be a mortgage is a mortgage despite "what appears, on its face, to be a warranty deed," the Arkansas Supreme Court said today.

Affirming a decision of Washington Chancery Court, the Supreme Court held that an "instrument which, on its face, purports to be a deed, is in fact a mortgage."

I. O. and Helen Miller mortgaged their home at Fayetteville in 1941. The mortgage was foreclosed and the property sold. A friend of the Millers helped them buy it back.

In 1942, the court said, Mrs. Miller made an agreement with Mrs. Jessie A. Lewis to help the Millers' friend get his money out of the property. For payment of $2,200 the property was returned to the Millers and they gave to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis "what appears, on its face, to be a warranty deed to the property."

A lease agreement was made, which provided monthly payments of $25 from the Millers to the Lewises and the option to buy within the 2-year lease agreement. The monthly payments, minus money spent on the property, were to be credited against the Millers' debt.

The Millers claim that before the lease agreement expired they attempted without success to exercise their option to purchase the property. They continued to make monthly payments until 1952. In 1953 they asked again to purchase the property. They filed suit in 1954 to regain the property.

"There is only one issue," said the Supreme Court opinion written by Associate Justice Sam Robinson, "and that is, whether the so-called deed to the Lewises is, in fact, a mortgage."

The opinion stated that the "evidence here is completely convincing that the parties intended the transaction to be a mortgage."

Surprise Soviet Bid Brings Quick U. S. Answer

WASHINGTON, (INS) — President Eisenhower, in a dramatic decision from his hospital bed, today turned down a surprise Soviet invitation for America's four top military officers to visit Moscow. The Russian invitation, extended informally Friday, was for the three chiefs of staff to accompany Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan S. Twining on his previously-scheduled trip to Russia late this month.

Mr. Eisenhower informed the Russians that such a visit would be "impracticable" at this time. He also said it is "not likely" that more than two of the four members of the joint chiefs would visit the Soviet Union at the same time, in any event.

Finally, the President let the Soviet Union know, any of the joint chiefs who do accept invitations to Russia must be permitted to spend "maximum time" outside of Moscow inspecting activities of special interests to their own services.

Mr. Eisenhower dealt with the matter at a ten-minute conference in his hospital room today, with his top White House aide, Sherman Adams.

The decision was relayed early this afternoon to Col. Sergei A. Edemsky, acting military attaché at the Soviet embassy in Washington.

Edemsky extended the invitation Friday during a call on Col. Robert E. Brewer, the Army's foreign liaison officer.

He told Brewer a formal invitation would be issued if the "unofficial attitude" was favorable to such a visit by the joint chiefs.

White House news secretary James C. Hagerty emphasized in a news conference at Walter Reed Hospital that the President alone made the final decision.

Thus, Mr. Eisenhower again picked up the reins of government with a dramatic flourish in the third day of his convalescence from major abdominal surgery.

"The Soviet military attaché was told that any future visits to Russia by members of the joint chiefs would depend on Twining's report when he returns. He is attending an air show in Moscow June 24."

A Pine Bluff Negro woman, Ellen McFarland, about 50, died yesterday several hours after she was found by police at her home shot and beaten. Officers said her husband, Oliver McFarland, was shot in the left leg when he resisted arrest.

Adlai to Make Ike's Health a Big Issue

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson says if he wins the Democratic presidential nomination he will make a campaign issue of the conduct of the office and "the President's health will definitely have something to do with the conduct of his office."

"To diminish the office of president is the dangerous thing and that is what I will campaign against," Stevenson said last night.

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee made the statement to newsmen on his arrival from California, where he defeated (D-Tenn) in that state's Democratic primary Tuesday.

Returning to his suburban Libertyville home after four months of campaigning, Stevenson said that he had accomplished what he set out to do this spring— "winning every contested primary but one."

The lone defeat was administered by defusing in the Minnesota primary, the first head-on clash between the two.

Since then the former Illinois governor has won five consecutive contested primaries.

Speculation on Ike as a Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's operation seemed certain today to touch off a month or more of renewed speculation about his candidacy for re-election despite claims from some Republicans that it makes no sense.

Several Democrats said they hope he sticks by his Feb. 29 decision to seek a second term, although most concede privately they think their chances would be better against another GOP candidate.

Several of Eisenhower's doctors said they see no reason for him to change his mind if he recovers as they anticipate.

Eisenhower's spokesman, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, brushed aside all political questions. "I have just one thought in mind; and that is to get the President of the United States out of the hospital," Hagerty said.

In any event, it seemed likely that Eisenhower might reserve a final decision for the four to six weeks his doctors say will be required for full convalescence.

Six weeks will expire July 21, about a month before the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Eisenhower has said, with reference to his heart attack last Sept. 24, that if he ever feels he is not up to another term he will say so immediately.

His doctors have declared there is no connection between the heart attack and his new will.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston specialist who was a consultant to Eisenhower after his heart attack, said the President "should be able to recover quite well and carry on normally."

White talked to newsmen in Winston-Salem, N.C., where he went to make a speech after coming here to consult with other doctors before the operation on Eisenhower. He said "I believe this was, and will have proved to be, a temporary illness that does not need to change" Eisenhower's second-term decision.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who announced Saturday his active candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he sincerely hopes the doctors are correct in saying Eisenhower can run again. Appearing on an NBC television program, he said he does not think the operation "will have any influence" on the campaign.

He favored restoring about half a billion dollars. His committee begins closed-door voting on the bill Wednesday.

Rebuttal Witnesses in Conspiracy Trial

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The government called several rebuttal witnesses today in the federal court conspiracy trial of Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle, who held high places in the Truman administration.

The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow or Wednesday. The defense rested its case Friday on the 23rd day of the trial. In five days of defense testimony, both defendants took the stand and denied the charge.

Connelly, White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, and Caudle, longtime head of the Justice Department's Tax Division, are accused of conspiring to defraud the government by sidetracking criminal prosecution of Irving Sachs, Sachs, St. Louis shoe manufacturer, pleaded guilty and was fined $40,000 in 1951 for income tax evasion. He escaped a prison term on health grounds.

A TRIBUTE TO FATHERS

There's an old saying that "mother knows best." Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of the children. And this is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cheery and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you how he appreciates these attentions. But he will... as all good fathers do!

A Doctor and his telephone

by Don Davis, Telephone News Reporter

Dr. Robert N. Crews, physician and family doctor for more than 60 years. His practice has touched the lives of thousands of friends and neighbors.

His hand is steady, his step is firm, his spirit is brisk. It's as if the passing years were bent on keeping Robert Crews eternally young, so that a life of dedicated service might continue on and on.

For, you see, Robert Crews is a doctor. Still active at 85, he's been healer, advisor and friend to his neighbors since before the turn of the century.

BRINGS BACK BYGONE DAYS

To sit and talk with Dr. Crews is to reminisce of the horse-and-buggy and the Model-T, to picture in your mind a lonely figure in the dead of night on his way to answer a call for help, to feel deeply grateful for such men who ask so little and give so much.

But Dr. Crews neither seeks full credit nor thinks it's due him. Not that he belittles his career. He is quite proud of it. He only insists he had help—and lots of

it. Maybe that's why, when the conversation got around to his telephone, he spoke with the warmth of a man talking about an old and valued friend.

"I guess I share more memories with my telephone than with almost anyone or anything," said Dr. Crews. "My telephone's been a part of my life and my work so long we're an inseparable team. Why, taking away my telephone would be like taking away my stethoscope and thermometer!"

TELEPHONE TAKES OVER

To illustrate his dependence on the telephone, Dr. Crews' favorite story concerns a worried mother, a child sick with the croup, and a raging blizzard.

The mother's frantic telephone call came late at night. Could the doctor help her child who seemed to be growing worse every minute? With eight impassable miles of blizzard and deep snow between him and the child, Dr. Crews had to rely on the telephone.

He prescribed and explained treatment for the mother to give—then kept in touch by telephone until he was sure the child was out of danger.

Can you imagine the comfort and peace of mind Dr. Crews and his telephone brought that mother that night?

NO GREATER VALUE

We owe much to men like Dr. Crews. For telephone service to have shared so fully in his accomplishments is a high honor indeed. No service could offer a greater value than that of providing a day-and-night link between you and your doctor.

May Dr. Crews and his telephone be together for many years to come.

Divorce Will Break Up Art Collection

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tonight Mrs. Edward G. Robinson is tossing a wake for the most fabulous private art collection in Western America.

Next month she is scheduled to file suit for divorce from the famed little Caesar of films, that means dissolution of the art treasures the Robinsons have collected a quarter century.

Two bars six buffet tables and a company of cabaret performers will be supplied tonight for a black tie party in the grand Hollywood tradition at the Robinsons' Beverly Hills home. Among the invited guests are Elizabeth Taylor and Michael Wilding, Montgomery Clift, Susan Hayward, the Van Johnsons and Jose Ferrer and Rosemary Clooney. Missing will be Robinson, who is in a New York play.

Mrs. Robinson, a famed artist in her own right, said she had been flooded with offers from art dealers all over the world. But she doesn't intend to dispose of her share of the art. She plans to keep some in her apartment, loan the rest to museums and sell one a year for income.

She gave me a preview of what guests will see tonight. All through the house, including the halls and bedrooms, were paintings and sculpture that would thrill any art lover. . . a fabulous corot, "Italiane," worth more than $250,000. . . "Lord Rothemere twice sent me blank checks for it" . . . A solid jade water buffalo and ancient Chinese ceremonial bronzes worth $100,000.

She said they began art collecting when his salary jumped from $1,000 a week to $7,000 after "Little Caesar."

Concerning her 29 years of married life, she observed: "He's such a great actor that we all went along with him. We didn't argue with him. Perhaps we should have."

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — (UP) — Mrs. Karl's Bakery offered today to give away $10,000 worth of pastries and other delicacies.

Happenings in TV During Past Year

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1955-56 television season is virtually over. Well, what are some of the important things that happened?

It was a season when dramas and musicals grew longer and the quiz programs became inflationary. It saw the emergence of a new star, Phil Silvers, and the waning of an old star, Milton Berle. A year ago many people were talking about Liberace and now not so many are talking about Liberace.

Every viewer has his prejudices. To one, the most regrettable departure from the home screen was that of Jack Paar. To the same viewer the most heartily cheered departure was that of "The Stork Club." Television is both poorer and better because these programs are not with us.

A year ago "The $64,000 Question" was little more than a gleam in the eye of package-producer Louis G. Cowan. Now the Cowan stable has three shows in high popularity: the big question, "The $64,000 Challenge," and "Big Surprise." The quiz virus has spread to the point where, contesting for a mere $64,000 is small potatoes.

It was a big season for Shakespeare. Unless we're mistaken, he had more TV productions than any other serious dramatist among the living or the dead. The longest television program—and one of the best—was Sir Laurence Olivier's three-hour film version of "Richard III."

In live TV drama "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" by Herman Wouk was unsurpassed entertainment. But then you recall the re-run of "Peter Pan," starring Mary Martin, and you realize how dangerous such generalizations can be.

Last fall a quiet, pleasant fellow named Pero Como was sent into the time spot opposite the great Jackie Gleason. Everybody smiled sympathetically. But in one of those David and Goliath contests that always make TV exciting, Como bested Gleason in the ratings battle—and next season Gleason will change his format.

Names long popular were suddenly discovered to have great drawing appeal to the home audiences. One was Maurice Chevalier. Another was Dinah Shore; she, it was discovered, can handle a big show. And next season she'll be center stage on many more big shows. Another who made a big splash was Noel Coward.

There were many unshakables. Ed Sullivan, continuing to lead with his left, knocked out two successive contenders—and soon will take on the edoubtable Steve Allen in the Sunday night ring.

short of breath and uncomfortable.

His doctor told him he had to reduce.

"I thought it would be easy," said Levinson, "but it took me a full year. I had become too used to stuffing myself with rich food. . . But I like to throw myself into a thing, and I got really interested in nutrition and made a thorough study of it."

The result, after more than two years of experimentation with myself as the guinea pig, is a book on the other side of the dietary fence. It is called "The Complete Book of Low Calorie Cooking."

Just how thorough was his research?

"Well," said Levinson, "I found 265 ways to prepare a breakfast egg — a different way for every day of the year."

The book abounds with tips on how ordinary diet cheaters, such as the midnight icebox raiders and the between meals snackers, can gorge themselves on extra fodder that will fill their empty stomachs but won't put on weight.

"The single most important thing a dieter should learn is moderation — then he can eat almost anything," he said.

"But moderation is something many people just can't practice. So for them the answer must be to pick low-calorie foods to fill up on. If we use more old world spices, herbs and seasonings—and the big news in the American kitchen today is that we are using more — these foods can be made more varied and tasty."

The days when he ate lamb kidneys prepared in 23 sauce — rich ways are past for Levinson, who fought successfully to get out of his old fat self. But he has no regrets.

"We are what we eat," he said, "and the more we eat the more we are."

Girl Succeeds Her Roommate

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C. (AP) — Marian McKnight of Marion, a 5-5 blue-eyed blonde, was chosen Miss South Carolina in a beauty contest, succeeding her college roommate, Martha Dean Chestnut of Conway. Miss Chestnut was skeptical about being out of the hurly-burly of having been Miss South Carolina for a year. "Out of it!" she exclaimed, looking at her roommate at Coker College in Hartsville. "I'm in it for another year."

Clement C. Moore wrote his poem, "The Night Before Christmas," as a Christmas present for his two daughters.

IT'S A PUZZLEMENT—It's Father's Day followed by Mother's Day for this eight-year-old India Nubian goat in Canaan, Me. His—her—its owner, Mrs. Mable Page, reports that the animal, which has fathered some 150 kids, has recently developed milk glands, and has begun delivering milk—a half pint every other day. The phenomenon has been known to have occurred in India, but has never before been reported in this country.

DOROTHY DIX

Love Dying of Malnutrition Quit Complaining! Fussy About Food

Dear Dorothy Dix: My fiancée is an attractive girl of 20, and I'm 27. We've known each other for two years and have been engaged for one. We planned to get married last year, but because of home obligations I put it off for awhile. Now it is set again for this October.

We live about 100 miles apart and get to see each other twice a month. On my last few visits she seemed changed. We argue quite often, which we never did before and she refuses to discuss plans. She says they will probably be changed again, so why figure on anything definite? I'm afraid she's seeing someone else now.

IRVING

Dear Irving: Distance may lend enchantment to some views, but not often does it add to romantic vistas. Your fiancée's love is suffering from mal-nutrition — too little substantial food to thrive on. She has been disappointed in a postponement of the wedding, and doesn't see you often enough to maintain hope. Of course you miss her too, but apparently loneliness and distance are getting her down.

Do you write often? Letters from you would do wonders in bolstering her morale; telephone calls would help, but most of all try to get extra visit in during the month. Just because you're engaged, don't think you can let down on courting, our lady must still be wooed. The wedding postponement was unfortunate but I'm sure if you talked your way into the engagement, you can talk your way into staying engaged.

Dear Dorothy Dix: At the age of 53 I married a man of 73. I was tired of knocking around from one job to another and living with other people. I thought it would be nice to have a home of my own. I did not marry for love.

Now I find my husband very irritating. He's very affectionate, always wants to kiss and hug me. I wouldn't mind a little of it, but he wants to overdo things. I'd like our marriage to be more on a friendship basis.

Also, he's a little tight with money. After having my own income for so long, I find it very hard to ask someone for every cent I spend.

DOLLY

Dear Dolly: At least you aren't knocking from one job to another, and you do have your own home! Aren't you willing to compromise a little for the benefits you derived from this marriage? If your husband didn't show affection, you'd be screaming he didn't care for you.

Marriages aren't exactly made to order; this one has its good points, made the most of them.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We rent a furnished apartment and our landlady is very nice to us; in fact, a bit too nice. She constantly brings food to us, but since we are both finicky about our food, we seldom eat her offerings. We realize this is a waste, but how can we tell her without hurting her feelings?

MONA

Dear Mona: Have you two ever tried overcoming this fanaticism about food? You are missing lots of fun by adhering to one type of food, one method of preparation. Don't your mouths ever water at the sight of food in magazines?

Unless your landlady is a poor cook, and I gather she isn't, it would be a good thing for you to experiment occasionally. If you still persist in being "finicky," just say your diets don't permit indiscriminate eating (it's the truth; your mental diets won't).

During 1955, 245,000 Americans died of cancer, while 38,000 were killed in motor accidents.

British Fear Ike Physically Disabled

LONDON (AP)—The Washington correspondents of most London newspapers told their readers today that the American people are increasingly dubious of President Eisenhower's physical fitness for re-election.

"Growing U.S. view he should quit fight," headlined the Conservative Daily Mail.

"There is deep disquiet in the United States today over President Eisenhower's health despite the optimistic and almost ebullient statements of the doctors," the Mail said. It added:

"The American public would be less perturbed if even one of the 13 or more doctors who attended the President had counseled caution or restraint or even said, 'Let us see how the President gets along—let us not rush things.'"

The pro-Labor party Daily Mirror declared bluntly:

"Public confidence in the medical opinions have been shaken by Saturday's operation, and it will take much more than publicity about Ike's golfing prowess to convince them that he is fit enough for another term."

The Independent Times said the "political implications of his present illness have possibly assumed a greater insistence than the fears inspired by his heart attack last year."

The middle-of-the-road News Chronicle said, "Neither Africa nor the world would forget it if the politicians were to urge the President to work beyond his physical endurance."

The Laborite Daily Herald said millions of American voters may "feel a little sickened, perhaps, if they feel, or know, that Ike's expectation of life is being sacrificed on the altar of the Republican party machine."

Circuit Court.

Apparently dozing through parts of the trial, Leggett appeared unmoved while witnesses testified as to his sanity, reviewed the details of the King boy's violent death and traced Leggett's sad history and criminal background.

He stood with eyes half open while the verdict was read. Once he brushed his head with his hand. That was his only show of nervousness. Then he was taken out of the court room.

Prosecutor Frank Holt contended that Leggett strangled young King after the boy resisted abnormal sex advances. Police quoted Leggett as saying he feared young King would tell police.

Young King had hitched a ride with Leggett after attending a movie at Jacksonville.

Leggett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Leggett of Jacksonville, were not in the court room when the verdict was read.

Leggett Gets a Sentence of Death

SMITH ROCK (AP)—Emmett Earl Leggett today was heading for a date with the electric chair to pay with his life for the Christmas week strangulation of 14-year-old Joe King.

The 19-year-old ex-convict was found guilty of first degree murder Saturday night. An all-male jury deliberated only two hours and 12 minutes before reaching a decision.

The tall, dark-haired Leggett took the verdict with the same calm indifference he displayed during the 6-day trial in Pulaski.

CHAPTER XIX

Jan Cash sat forward in her rocker, full lamplight falling against her face. "If you need friends in town, you'll find Rafter C has them. Juan, the Mexican was one of Dad's closest friends. Then there's the Swenson and Hyman their shops."

Hyman, the thin, dark man who showed to plainly his love for Lily Arnette. So old man Cash had given away shops and his daughter had the ranch with no cattle left on it. "What about Doc?"

The past was coming in with its memories. "I hadn't meant to overlook Doc. George La Tour brought me into the world. Oh, he's been a friend to the Cashes. He was one of the pallbearers at Dad's funeral. They'd been friends since they were boys. Dad was known for sticking through the rough spots for a friend, and so was La Tour. He's probably an old sot, but he's still the greatest man left in this country."

He had met of what he wanted now, the details could fill themselves in. It made Cashtown snap to life, with its townfolk taking on flesh and bone for him. When he walked to the Rafter C horse that Alex had saddled Jean came off the porch.

"I realize you've got to see the sheriff, and it's right. But don't let Chantry get rough with you." She reached toward him unexpectedly and let her hand lay against his arm. "What brought you to this country, Frank A woman?"

She saw the darkening that crossed his eyes and added gently, "Should I take back the question?"

"No, it's all right. It was a relief to get away."

He thought her face lost some of its shadings. She said quietly,

Around The World

LEAMINGTON, England, — (UP) — Mrs. Dorothy Long, 40-year-old mother of a wolf Cub pack, said today she had lost her job because she had an affair with a 17-year-old Boy Scout. "I realized he was falling in love with me," she said, "but it was ward, and with deep gravity about him. When his look returned to Frank, Frank knew Hyman was not the only man in this room that had put the singer on a high plane. Except for the courage given it by Lily this would be a brutal town without friendliness, without grace and without hope.

Swenson was frowning stolidly. "Ain't you pulled your freight yet? Or did you change your mind about the Rafter C proposition?"

"Changed my mind," Frank told him. "Jean Cash signed me."

It was as though darkness had hovered overhead but now relief softened Swenson's face. The Swede continued to watch Frank closely while he made up his mind. "That makes a difference," he admitted. "Doc La Tour asked me to find somebody to lend a hand."

Frank wondered if the cook who had scalded himself in deep lard had taken an unexpected turn for the worst. "Juan Lopez" he asked.

Swenson shook his head. "Another fellow I reckon you know. He was shot a couple nights ago and been ridin' around without attention. Doc's got to saw off his arm while you and me hold him down. He's doing it while Lily weighs 139 pounds and has a 38-

BOMB AWAY!—Maj. Robert Lewis, who flew the B-29 that dropped the A-bomb on Hiroshima in 1945, scores a direct hit with another type of "bomb." Lewis is shown dropping a celluloid "bomb," stuffed with dollars to fight cancer, into a target barrel on the Merchandise Mart roof in Chicago. The dramatic ceremony marks the start of the national Susan Ball Memorial Fund drive to raise one million dollars for increased research and treatment for cancer.

THE ROOSIANS WERE HERE—Russian colonists at one time had a settlement at Fort Ross, Calif., just 72 miles northwest of San Francisco. This little chapel, above, a remnant of their colony, has recently been restored. The Russians abandoned their California settlement in 1842 because of financial difficulties.

DRUMMING IT UP IN SOUTH AFRICA—Headed for South Africa to drum up support for a nation-wide cerebral palsy drive there, TV and movie star Don DeFore gets help from his entire family as he beats out rhythm on a Zulu war drum. Shown in New York City are Don and his wife, and their four children, left to right: Penny, 13; Dawn, 8; Ronnie, 5; and Don, Jr., 10. The U.S. group headed for Africa includes Pat O'Brien, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Tex Ritter, Martha Tilton, Merle Travis.

KO'ED FOR LOVE SCENES—Two-ton Tony Galento, barrel-bellied former heavyweight boxer, is mugging for the movies now. Starring in "The Best Things in Life Are Free," Tony, who also claims to be a lover at heart, plays it up with co-star Roxanne Arlen. Tony says "Lovin' I can do all the time, but my face don't call for it."

QUICKIE COCKTAIL CONCOCTER—An automatic bartender, the only one of its kind in the world, will mix and dispense a drink in three seconds. As demonstrated in San Francisco by model Christie Wold, selection of liquor, mix and proportions activates automatic controls, and you can have the drink of your choice. The bar weighs 200 pounds, and cost $4,000 to build.

FORD BOARD HEAD—H. Rowan Galt, Jr., has been elected chairman of the board of the Ford Foundation. The board of trustees announced in New York the appointment immediately following the resignation of Henry Ford II as the Foundation's chairman. Galt has been Foundation president since February, 1953.

MOBILE ATOMIC CANNON—MADE IN RUSSIA—New weapons said by U.S. Army sources to have been developed by the Soviet Union include this 203-mm. gun, made for the express purpose of firing nuclear shells at far-distant targets. The reports, carried in True magazine, describe the cannon as being light for its size and easily shifted from one point to another—in sharp contrast to the bulky U.S. 280-mm. gun.

HER LAST PORT—One of the greatest of the U.S. Navy's historic ships is about to be cut up for scrap metal in Kwasaki, Japan. It is the famed, 60-year-old battleship Oregon, pride of the fleet in 1898 when she steamed 17,000 miles around Cape Horn in the Spanish-American War. She is shown above in 1919, after serving as the flagship of the Pacific fleet in World War I. The Oregon was an ammunition transport in World War II, after which her usefulness was ended.

FAR FROM THEIR BASE—Kansans were treated to a rare sight recently when hundreds of high-flying sea gulls came in for a landing and free chow on Ellis county farms. A few of them are shown above, over the farm of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Reynolds, near Hays. The birds, en route from the Gulf of Mexico to the northern lake country, were ravenously hungry and were attracted by the worms and grubs turned up by farmers' plows.

"IMPOSSIBLE"—BUT TRUE—At a glance, it seems impossible that the two youths crushed together in this badly smashed car could possibly be alive. But they were and not only that, but they've just been released from the hospital. They were among six injured when the car crashed into some farm equipment in Delaware Township, N.J. Two girl passengers are in serious condition.

HAIRLINE ACCURACY—Amazing new mechanical hands do a make-up and hair-do job on pretty Ruth Feldheim in Schenectady, N.Y. Called "Yes-Man" by the General Electric engineers who developed it, the electro-hydraulic system has twin machines, each with two arms, two hands and three fingers.

PRIEST IN THE FAMILY—Avery Dulles, 37, the youngest son of Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles, will be ordained a Jesuit priest on June 16th by Francis Cardinal Spellman at Fordham University, New York City. Young Dulles entered a Jesuit novitiate in 1946 and has been studying for the priesthood since that time.

CANADA'S ENTRY—Pretty Elaine Bishendon, an 18-year-old high school student, will represent Canada at the "Miss Universe" contest in California. Elaine, a Toronto girl, is a star tap dancer, and a medal-winning highland fling dancer.

TROUBLE CHUTING—Chaplain William G. DeVanny (arrow) and 1st Lt. Robert Paté of the 325th Airborne Infantry, Rgt. of Fort Bragg, N.C., became entangled after jumping simultaneously from opposite sides of a C-119 Flying Boxcar at Fort Gordon, Ga. Neither man was injured. Chances for such a mishap were quoted as one in 2,000 jumps.

'POSSUM'S MEOW—When a possum was orphaned through the loss of his mother, he went, naturally enough, to an orphanage. The mother cat at the Happy Homes orphanage in McAllen, Texas, took the homeless youngster into her family of four kittens. Three of the kittens are shown, above, at the dinner table, but 'possum was smart—he got there first.

CAR-RAZY JOURNEY—In Kansas City, Mo., Aldo Abir inspects the "Turtle Express," a 1928 Pontiac he is driving from his home in Montevideo, Uruguay, to Montevideo City, Minn., and other U.S. points. Abir started out on Feb. 14, 1954, with only $60. The 24-year-old speaks six languages, and plans to write a book about his travels through the Americas.

ART WINS OVER AILMENT—Despite the physical handicap, Mrs. Lucille W. Dreyblatt, a cerebral palsy victim since birth, has won $1,000 first prize in the first National Art Contest for the Physically Handicapped. In New York, her oil painting, "Ships at Bay," was selected from nearly 1,000 entries. Mrs. Dreyblatt, of Forest Hills, N.Y., will go to Washington for Employ the Handicapped Week, in October, to receive her award from Chief Justice Warren. Viewing the picture, right, is Dr. Cecil Morgan, adult vocational director for United Cerebral Palsy.

EIGHT BROTHERS ARE FATHERS—The sons of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Joseph O'Hara pose in Ministeracres, England, after the last brother was ordained into the priesthood. The O'Haras believe they hold the record for most sons in the priesthood. The brothers are, front to back: Conleth, 27, newly ordained as a Passionist monk; Garvan, 23, of Southbank; Patrick, 29, of York; Desmond, 30, of Ramsey; Michael (Father Gabriel), 31, a Cistercian monk of Mellifont, Ireland; John, 33, and Alban, 38, both of Birmingham; and Francis, 40, of Grange town, England.

SHE GETS A HEAD—Rodeo rider Betty Ford rode a bucking bull named "Belle" during the rodeo season at Austin, Texas. Both of them several times before the fall.

The victim was William J. Carron, 49, a Dorchester district hoodlum whose body was found yesterday in his parked car at the rear of a Navy barracks building on the South Boston waterfront.

Booked on a charge of "suspicious persons in connection with murder" were Thomas J. Bal-lou, 27, of Quincy, who was free in $20,000 bail on an indictment of being an accessory in the Brink's robbery, and Thomas A. Callahan,

Shots Could Protect Unvaccinated Persons

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CHICAGO (AP) — Going full speed ahead with Salk polio shots might even protect some unvaccinated persons, including parents of young children, two polio experts said today.

Vaccinated children may become far less able to pass an oral polio infection to other family members. There would be fewer "silent carriers" who could spread dangerous virus during epidemics to others.

The chances that Salk vaccine shots could bring this extra dividend were described by Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, who developed the vaccine, and Dr. David Bodian of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

They spoke at a polio symposium at the opening of the 105th annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

Simultaneously, Dr. Leonard Scheele, surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, called for use of "every drop" of Salk vaccine as soon as possible, even during polio epidemics.

"Vaccine given in July and August will prevent paralytic cases and even deaths in August and September," Dr. Scheele declared.

Military Ends Revolt in Argentina

BY SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's military regime pushed a determined hunt today for leaders of a bloody weekend revolt staged by army and civilian followers of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron.

The government announced firing squads executed 39 rebels in speedy and unprecedented retaliation. It indicated many more would face a similar fate as swift courts-martial convened under martial law, sat around the clock.

The revolt—crushed in 12 hours by government air and ground forces—flared at 11 p.m. Saturday in Buenos Aires and three other major cities. Some 100 persons reportedly may have been killed or wounded.

The insurgents struck at two points in the federal capital. At the same time they staged uprisings in La Plata, 35 miles south-east of Buenos Aires; Santa Rosa, capital of La Pampa province in central Argentina; and Rosario, 180 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Loyalist forces directed by the vice president, Adm. Isaac Rojas, quickly smothered the revolt in Buenos Aires and Rosario. Jet fighter and navy bombers finally smashed rebel holdouts in La Plata and Santa Rosa.

The international Ice Patrol was organized in 1912.

To The Citizens And Voters Of Hempstead County

We, the Hempstead County Candidates have agreed to a speaking tour in a group in the principal localities of County on Friday nights only, between now and the first primary, July 31st. Most candidates are working and campaigning too, is reason they cannot attend but one speaking engagement a week, and will not be able to attend any other social gathering.

The candidates have selected the two unopposed candidates, Arnold Middlebrooks, County Clerk, and Harry Hawthorne, County Treasurer, as the candidates to contact by any community to arrange for a Friday night speaking engagement.
